Public Remarks: Wait wait! I know what you're thinking. Hear me out though because there's some really good news to share about this condo. The pictures may not give you the warm and fuzzies, but due to an unfortunate leak from the upstairs unit, ALL THE PLUMBING has been replaced! During the problem solving of the leak, the wall between the kitchen and bathroom was removed. Look closely and you'll see all that shiny new copper, new waste lines, etc. All that's left to do, is to have that wall rebuilt, (currently an obligation of the association and in process). Then you can start the HGTV facelift! Ask your realtor to set up a showing and bring your imagination. 3D Tour and some photos were taken in 2022 prior to repairs.
